Audrey Hope's "REEL WOMEN" Show

Audrey Hope's "REEL WOMEN" is a cable TV Talk show dedicated to creating positive role models in the media and life-altering perspectives that can transform our world. Produced by Brent Williams and Audrey Hope, "REEL WOMEN" can be seen Nationally and Internationally on the New Wisdom Television and on local stations in California and New York.

"REEL WOMEN" fills a needed gap in TV programming and aims to be a forum for issues that truly matter in our lives. The viewer is invited to embrace a 'revolution in perception', that could give us awareness in our everyday lives and nudge us in the direction of health and happiness. Says Audrey 'You may change the way you pay attention to yourself and the world, and it may benefit you to look at life this way'. Now you can turn on the TV set and get answers to such questions as 'What is our true purpose in life? Why do some people get sick and others don't? What is real happiness? How can we become experts in our own healing? Can God be scientifically proven?'

"REEL WOMEN" began in 1992 at Century Cable TV studios in Santa Monica, California by Audrey Hope and Brent Williams, two successful actors who became concerned about the dangerous effect the media had in our everyday life. The plan was to do one show to help honor the images of womanhood, and the feminine values of love and compassion that could bring balance to a troubled world.

The response to "REEL WOMEN" was so amazing that before long Brent and Audrey had a vision for a whole series. Now there would be a show, not based on heated arguments, sensationalism, confrontations, hot topics or celebrity hype, but a show to sensitize people to view all human beings with respect and compassion. Brent and Audrey worked on their mission for almost 6 years on a shoestring budget, until they were recently picked up by WISDOM TELEVISION. WISDOM TELEVISION seeks to inspire, enlighten and challenge and its programming encourages an inward growth or journey to self-improvement. It reaches 65 million viewers and is growing!
