SUFI MASTERS

THE KEY TO SALVATION: A SUFI MANUAL OF INVOCATION

In its first English translation, this important work by Ibn 'Ata' Allah Al-Iskandari, the third great master of the Shadhili Sufi Order, contains the principles of actual Sufi mystical practices. It sheds a new light on sacred invocation and assorted practices such as the spiritual retreat. Lucid in style, it also offers a glimpse into the 7th Islamic century Sufi world.

STORY OF LAYLA AND MAJNUN

In this most famous classical love story of the Islamic Orient, Majnun serves as a model for the mystical lover, lost in his contemplation of Layla, seeing only her throughout the world, with all of creation assuming her form in his eyes. A beautiful poetic Sufi allegory, which is a shadow picture of the soul's passionate longing to be reunited with God, and wherein the manifestation of divine beauty is seen through the eyes of love.

FROM ARAB POET TO MUSLIM SAINT: IBN AL-FARID, HIS VERSE & HIS SHRINE

Through examining a renowned Arab mystical poet, this book provides one of the first case studies of an obscure aspect of Muslim faith: the sanctification of saints and creation of shrines in classical Islam. Saints have long been venerated without formal canonization, and Homerin explores this territory by following the fortunes of this saint, his rise and fall, seen against Egypt's changing religious, cultural and political environment.

proverbs, aphorisms, love lyrics, erotic stories, descriptions of great rulers, and pronouncements in prose and verse on morality and ethics. But beyond the surface playfulness, there is a deep consistency to Sa'di's poetry which reveals its Sufic dimension, as Omar Ali-Shah shows in his fresh translation of The Gulistan.

AL-GHAZZALI: INCOHERENCE OF THE PHILOSOPHERS

This ranks among the most important works of one of the most fascinating thinkers in the history of Islam. It contends that, although Muslim philosophers such as al-Farabi and Ibn Sina boasted of their unassailable arguments on crucial matters of theology and metaphysics, they could not deliver on their claims, and their assertions represented mere disguised heresy and unbelief. Ibn Rushd attempted to refute al-Ghazzali's critique, but it remains widely read and influential today.

METAPHYSICS IN ISLAMIC PHILOSOPHY

The concept of being for Islamic philosophers is an important topic and shows them to be true inheritors of Greek philosophic tradition. They not only mastered and assimilated the Greek material on being but also added to it, developed it, and at moments attained peaks of originality and subtlety that give them a permanent place in the history of metaphysics. The text opens with a discussion of the verb "to be" in an Arabic context and includes essays on Farabi, Ibn Sina, Ibn Rushd and Mulla Sadra.

THE ETHICAL PHILOSOPHY OF AL-GHAZZALI

Al-Ghazzali lived in the stormy days of religious and philosophical polemic and controversy which had rent asunder the great common-wealth of the Muslim peoples in the world. This is a vivid record of that age and the endeavors of al-Ghazzali in recreating the Islamic faith and redeeming the Muslims of his day and posterity from folly and ignorance.

Mohammad Umar-Ud-Din $9.95

SOME MORAL AND RELIGIOUS TEACHINGS OF AL-GHAZZALI

A well-known compendium of al-Ghazzali's teachings offering a variety of insights into many religious questions, as well as esoteric thought in general.

MISHKAT AL-ANWAR (THE NICHE FOR LIGHTS)

The Mishkat al-Anwar is a work of extreme interest from the intimate viewpoint of al-Ghazzali's inner life and esoteric thought, as well as his extraordinary descriptions of inner systems of light and of souls.

W. H. T. Gairdner $4.95

A forthright series of books from Oxford, England concerning the chief ethical and religious masterpieces of the world, and an attempt to present for the Western reader an honest introduction to the writings of the world's great religious teachers.

W. Montgomery Watt $3.95

THE ALCHEMY OF HAPPINESS

As a practical mystic, Ghazzali's aim was to make man better by leading him from a merely rational acquiescence in the stereotyped creed of Islam to a real knowledge of God. The first four chapters of his Kimiya-i-Sa'dat are a commentary on the famous verse in the Hadith: "He who knows himself knows God."

Claud Field $4.95

THE FOUNDATIONS OF THE ARTICLES OF FAITH

A translation of the second book, the Kitab Qawa'id al-Aqa'id, of the first quarter of Ghazzali's Ihya Ulum al-Din, dealing with the foundations of faith and an exposition of the creed of the orthodox community.

Nabih Amin Faris $6.95

AL-GHAZZALI ON DIVINE PREDICATES

A critical translation of relevant chapters in Ghazzali's Al-Iqtisad Fil-I'tiqad, treating the subject of Divine Attributes from its logical side, rather than as a semantic or metaphysical problem.

HAZRAT INAYAT KHAN

THE MYSTICISM OF SOUND AND MUSIC

Music, according to Sufi teaching, is really a small expression of the overwhelming and perfect harmony of the whole universe -- and that is the secret of its amazing power to move us. The Indian Sufi master Hazrat Inayat Khan (1882-1927), the first teacher to bring Islamic mystical tradition to the West, was an accomplished musician himself. His lucid exposition of music's divine nature has become a modern classic, beloved not only by those interested in Sufism but by musicians of all kinds.
