And this Gospel of Mark 13 and Matthew 24 shall be preached in the whole world, as a testimony to all nations in the Age that has Come; and then shall come the warming of the global warming. "So be on your guard; I have told you everything ahead of time." (January 17, 2021)

What Does It Mean for a Whole Nation to Become Uninhabitable?

"I read my Bible every day, and I know things will change," she said. "And I believe both of them are happening now, what is written and what I see with my own eyes."

NASA, International Panel Provide a New Window on Rising Seas

Rising seas will exacerbate problems that coastal communities are already dealing with, including high-tide, or “nuisance,” floods. Inundated roadways like this one in Virginia are among the consequences of such floods.

What I Saw in Yosemite Was Devastating

"The evidence of our planet's warming is all around us. But many of us have been able to comfort ourselves, if only slightly, with the knowledge that the more cataclysmic fallout is still a ways off, that it may be preventable. Perhaps the gradual nature of the worsening conditions we see every day has lulled us into a sense of complacency.

What I saw in Yosemite feels like a wake-up call that's come too late."

The Arctic is burning like never before — and that's bad news for climate

Fires are releasing record levels of carbon dioxide, partly because they are burning ancient peatlands that have been a carbon sink.

They capture the apocalyptic skies

The apocalyptic skies across Northern California are just the latest sign of California's struggles.

"I've never seen a fire forecast this bad and this large ... it looks dire," photographer Stuart Palley wrote to his photo editor this week. (Above, a hillside ablaze next to the Bidwell Bar Bridge in Oroville.)
